Benefit 1: Intervention

Remote services can be delivered as direct, face-to-face intervention with the student utilizing their AT/AAC tools, while also providing consultation and training to parents and staff for increased generalization of skills.

Benefit 2: Assessment

Remote assessments uses the same gold-standard SETT framework and assessment tools used when in-person. All AT/AAC assessments require whole team participation, and Remote therapists facilitates on-sight team members active involvement.

Benefit 3: Compliance

SPG Remote can work with your team to ensure IEP compliance. Whether you need IEP services met or compensated, coverage for unexpected or scheduled leaves, or Initial & Triennial assessments conducted, SPG's Remote team is here for you.

Benefit 4: Health & Safety

SPG Remote AT/AAC services allows everyone to maintain social distancing, keeping your student, your staff, and the therapist healthy and safe. Healthy individuals don't miss services and don't get others sick!

Benefit 5: Collaboration

The flexibility of SPG Remote teletherapy services allows for increased collaboration between AT/AAC therapists and all stakeholders. We work together to support your students' communication.

Benefit 6: Support

SPG Remote AT/AAC Therapists are fully supported with direct clinician supervision and the physical resources they need to get their job done. Additionally, we provide IT & SPG Remote tech teams to support any technical or operational issues.
